

Guest Professors

- Our guest professor, Prof. Johan Hasselgren, was invited to teach a course on “World Religions in Interaction” in Sun Yat-Sen University from February to June 2007. Prof. Johan Hasselgren is currently a professor in Lutheran Theological Seminary.

- Our guest professor, Prof. Knud Jørgensen, was invited to give a lecture on “Dialogue in a Multi-religious and Multi-cultural Society” in Sichuan University in March 2007. Prof. Jørgensen is now the Director of Areopagos.

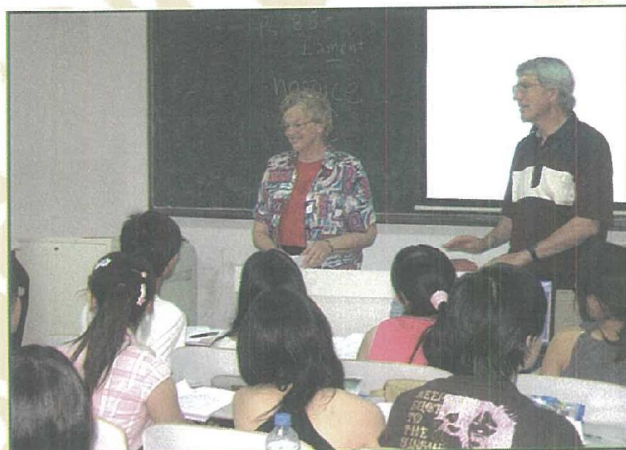

- Our guest professor, Dr. Caroline Nolan, was invited to teach an intensive course entitled “Hebrew Poetry & Wisdom Literature” in Henan University in April 2007. Dr. Nolan is now the Chair of the Biblical Studies Department at Newman Theological College, Edmonton, Canada.

- Our distinguished professor, Prof. Milton Wan, was invited to deliver lectures in Wuhan University in May 2007. His topics were “The Exclusivism and Inclusivism of Christianity in the Context of Chinese Culture” and “The Impact on Barth’s and Tillich’s Theology of Culture”. Prof. Wan is now the professional consultant of Divinity School, Chung Chi College, CUHK and Distinguished Professor of ISCS.

- Our guest professors, Prof. John & Florence Gillman, were invited to deliver lectures on “Psalms: Ancient Voices in Dialogue with the Suffering and Dying Today” and “Early Christianity and Jewish Political Leadership according to Luke-Acts” in Fudan University, Shandong University, Renmin University of China and Central University for Nationalities in May and June 2007. They are professors of the Department of Religious Studies, San Diego State University and the Department of Theology and Religious Studies, University of San Diego.

- Our guest professor, Prof. LAI Pan-chiu, was invited to deliver a lecture on “Monotheism and Religious Tolerance” in Shandong University in May 2007. Prof. Lai is currently the chair of the department of Cultural & Religious Studies of Chinese University of Hong Kong.

- Our guest professor, Prof. LI Qiuling, was invited to deliver a lecture on “Kant’s Philosophy of Religion and the Construction of Sino-Christian Theology” in Heilongjiang University in June 2007. Prof. Li is now professor of the department of Philosophy in Renmin University of China.